

Tony Bandanza, Enterprise Account Executive Uber for Business

Tony joined Uber in January 2016 as the Regional Manager of Trust & Safety for the Central & US West Regions. His core function was to develop and implement new processes and technology products to ensure Uber is a safe transportation option for both riders and drivers. Many of these features are now available in the app globally. Since January 2017 he has served as an Enterprise Account Executive, establishing corporate travel partnerships across the Midwest.

Prior to joining Uber Tony spent 8 years at Wells Fargo establishing financial risk management programs for clients in the transportation, industrial manufacturing, and consumer packaged goods sectors. Tony holds an undergraduate degree from Cornell University.
